

Start Each Day Focused

I love getting a one-shot view of my day and what inputs and outputs I need to prioritize for the day. It eliminates a lot of “processing” time for me, and it helps me start my day focused.

Base for Executives

Base is the only tool built for assistants, arming them with executive-level support so leaders can pull up their daily and weekly action items, files, meetings, last-minute updates, and more in minutes.

B A S E

- No interrupted workflows
- Faster, more efficient ways for executives to receive critical updates and information

Have One Source of Truth

“[What I find most valuable is] having the [daily Digest] as the one source of information about the day’s schedule. This means [I’m] less rushed scrolling through emails to find the papers for a meeting. [Digest] is used frequently during the day and then referred back to often. They never get deleted!”
